IN RE: JOHNSON & JOHNSON TALCUM POWDER PRODUCTS MARKETING. SLAES PRACTICES AND PRODUCTS LIABILITY LITIGATION

MDL Docket No. 2738

This Document Relates To All Cases

DECLARATION OF NANCY O'REILLY, MHS, PMP

- I, Nancy E. O'Reilly, declare under penalty of perjury pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 that to the best of my knowledge the following is true and correct:
- 1. I am over 21 years of age and have personal knowledge of the facts and matters attested to in this Declaration. I am competent to be a witness to the facts and matters attested to in this Declaration.
- I am the Senior Director, Clinical Guidance of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists ("ACOG"). I have worked for ACOG for more than 29 years. I have a Masters in Health Science from John Hopkins University and am a certified Project Management Professional from the Project Management Institute.
- 3. ACOG is a professional membership organization for obstetrician-gynecologists. The College produces practice guidelines for health care professionals and educational materials for patients, provides practice management and career support, facilitates programs and initiatives to improve women's health, and advocates for members and patients.
- 4. Consistent with the CMSS Code for Interactions with Companies, ACOG accepts corporate donations and sponsorships. Johnson & Johnson and affiliated companies have, at times, donated funds to support ACOG projects. A true and accurate statement of all donations from Johnson & Johnson and its affiliates to ACOG is attached as Exhibit A.

Case 3:16-md-02738-MAS-RLS

- 5. ACOG's clinical guidance, educational activities, scientific programs, products, services and advocacy positions are separated from and independent of corporate sponsorships or donations and all content is independently developed. ACOG discloses on its website corporate support or sponsorships and that information is available to members and the public.
- 6. Because of concerns regarding potential discomfort or pain, ACOG has not (and does not) recommend the use of talcum powder as a vaginal treatment.
- 7. In 2017, ACOG included the following statement on its website from Hal C. Lawrence, III, M.D., the Executive Vice President and CEO of ACOG at the time:
 - 'Despite an observed association, several decades of medical research have not demonstrated a direct causative link between the use of talcum powder and ovarian cancer. Although some casecontrol studies suggested an association, with a small increase in risk, prospective cohort studies have not demonstrated an increased risk. It is important to note that there are limitations associated with the studies that have investigated this association, which include several types of bias, inadequate sample sizes and the rarity of the disease. Because of concerns regarding potential discomfort or pain, obstetrician-gynecologists do not recommend use of vaginal treatments such as douche, vaginal sprays or talcum powder and the use of talcum powder has declined over the years. There is no medical consensus that talcum powder causes ovarian cancer.'
- 8. That statement, however, was not intended to be and is not a formal Practice Advisory or Committee Opinion. It is not clinical guidance. The existing evidence at the time did not support a firm clinical conclusion regarding whether there was a direct causative link between the use of talcum powder and ovarian cancer.
- 9. In 2019, ACOG considered whether new facts or research had developed that would merit revision to the statement or a more formal guidance document. ACOG concluded that the existing evidence again did not support a firm clinical conclusion. Based on the evidence reviewed, ACOG did not reach a clinical conclusion whether there was a causative link between the use of talcum powder and ovarian cancer.

- 10. Since then, ACOG has not issued any formal Practice Advisory or Committee Opinion or performed a systematic review on the use of talcum powder and ovarian cancer.
- 11. ACOG has not issued any clinical guidance or conclusions regarding potential risk or the safety of genital application of talcum powder.

Executed in Washington, D.C. on 81474.
